

Father, your love, agape-love, unconditional love, has been poured out in our hearts by Holy Spirit. We pray now that your love would flow freely from our hearts to each other, soaking into, and satisfying, our sometimes dry and thirsty souls, fulfilling our need to love and be loved.

Lord, we ask that you would help us to be loving and patient with each other in every circumstance. Help us to always treat our mate with kindness and respect. We commit ourselves to only seek the best for each other and to always encourage and support our spouse.

We declare there is no place for envy, pride, or strife in our marriage. Satan, we bind you. We declare that you are a defeated foe. We resist your every attempt to bring confusion and destruction to our marriage, in Jesus' name! We overcome you by the blood of Jesus, and by the word of our testimony!

Father, as we walk together on our marriage journey, we commit ourselves to love each other as you love us, unconditionally. When we fail to live up to your Word, help us to quickly admit our faults and mistakes, and to ask for forgiveness. Help us to extend forgiveness and mercy to our mate when they have wronged us. We refuse to yield to anger or bitterness, and we reject the temptation to keep any record of wrongs.

May we always honor each other, and never be selfish. May you help us to remember that marriage requires patience, understanding, and compromise. May we never forget that we are covenant-partners and joint-heirs of the grace of life, so that we lovingly support and help each other, working as a team to accomplish your plan and purpose for our lives.

Please help us to always remain truthful; to always trust and protect each other, and to always believe the best in each other. Help us keep our lines of communication open as we speak the truth in love, always speaking words of grace that edify and uplift each other.

Father, we know that you are love. We know that you live within us and empower us to love as you love. We believe that our love will grow stronger day by day, because your love never fails.

In Jesus' name, Amen!
