

Father, you never leave us nor forsake us. Even when we break fellowship with you, your love never fails, never lets go, and never gives up on us.

We intercede for these who have been born again and once walked as disciples, but who have now turned aside from the path of righteousness, and are held captive by the enemy. Satan, we command you to loose them. We decree that as we encircle them within the protective walls of intercessory prayer, they swiftly escape out of your snares, and are completely liberated from your prison cells.

We declare that these wayward sheep have received eternal life, and they shall not perish, neither shall anyone snatch them out of Jesus' hand. You, Father, have given them to Jesus, and you are greater than all. No one is able to snatch them out of your hand.

From childhood, they have had knowledge of and have been acquainted with your Word, which is light and life. Father, heal their backsliding and restore them to their first love. Create in them a new hunger for your Word and a new thirst for your Spirit. We are confident that you will continue the good work which you have begun in them until the return of the Lord Jesus Christ.

We thank you for the Spirit of reconciliation and restoration working even now in their lives,

In the name of Jesus, Amen!
